D. Commentary

The 5pm daily ministerial media briefing was led by the Health and Social Care Secretary, Matt Hancock. He reported the lowest daily death numbers (111) since the nationwide lockdown was announced by the Prime Minister on 23rd March, adding that this was a sign of 'significant progress'. Mr Hancock also reported 1,570 COVID-19 positive test results – this being the lowest number since 25th March.

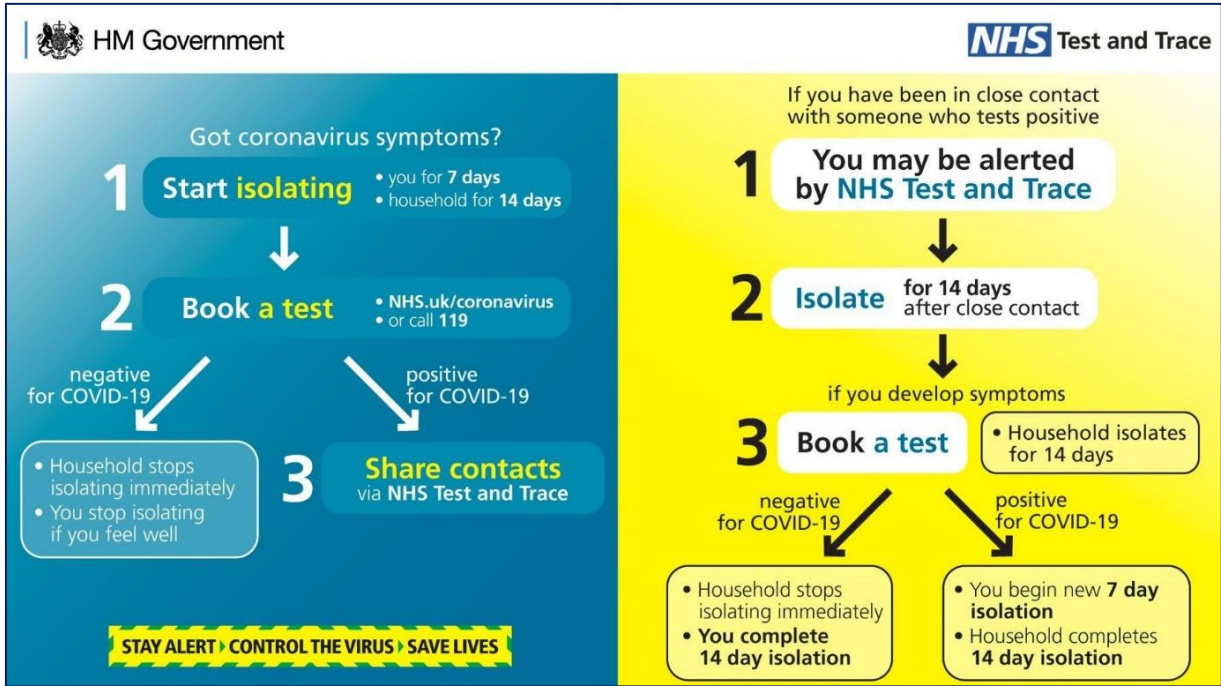

It should be noted that with effect from 1st June 2020, the way the COVID-19 deaths are reported in England changed, resulting in an additional 445 being added to the progressive total, raising the overall UK figure to 39,045.

The actual COVID-19 death figure will be significantly higher than 39,045 because of different and arguably complex methods of recording death data during the pandemic and across the four UK nations. An explanation of how the deaths are calculated and aggregated is available here.

Monday, 1st June 2020, was marked by some primary schools reopening and some relaxation of social distancing rules. There are some variations in the rules for meeting as shown in this table:

	England	Scotland	Wales	Northern Ireland
Number of people	Up to six	Up to eight from two households	Any number from two households	Up to six
Distance apart	Two metres	Two metres	Two metres	Two metres
Places where they can meet	Anywhere outdoors	Anywhere outdoors but ideally within five miles	Anywhere outdoors but ideally within five miles (local)	Anywhere outdoors
